Prelude

*Call to Worship (responsively):

One: “In writing to the Christians in Corinth, the apostle Paul suggests, “Even though our physical being is gradually decaying, yet our spiritual being is renewed day after day.”

All: We gather as physical beings in a physical place, normally a building made of hard materials but today in a picnic pavilion, for the purpose of focusing on that which is spiritual.

One: Paul went on, “For we fix our attention, not on things that are seen, but on things that are unseen.”

All: As persons who live in this physical world, we find ourselves attracted to that which is tangible and material. We tend to even think the physical is more important and lasting.

One: Paul went on to write to the Corinthians, “What can be seen last only for a time, but what cannot be seen lasts forever.”

All: We gather in this place to worship God whom we cannot see and to celebrate the promises of a life which is spiritual.
